Good afternoon -

Well, it looks like the weather forecasters didn't fib after all. With the worst of the storm hitting us now and for the remainder of the night, our snowplow contractor is ensuring the main roads are cleared for emergencies. With this amount of snow, it's difficult to ensure no driveways are plowed in. Please know that once this is over, the contractor committed to come back through tomorrow and help clear driveways where berms may have been formed and clean areas up.

We appreciate your continued patience.
